As the morning sunlight crept over the limestone walls of Jerusalem's old city, two young Americans flagged down a bus and got on. It was 6:45 am, February 25, 1996—an otherwise ordinary Sunday in Israel. Sara Duker and Matthew Eisenfeld settled into their seats as the door closed on Jerusalem's Number 18 bus which would take them across the spine of this ancient city of hills. On this day, they had risen earlier than normal in the hope of touring an archaeological site. After a few more stops, their bus turned on Jerusalem's Jaffa Road and rolled up a slight hill and stopped again. A young man, who seemed to be a student and was carrying a black duffle bag, got on. No one paid much attention to him, witnesses said later. Students carrying duffle bags or backpacks are a common sight in Jerusalem. But this man was no student. He took a seat. After several more stops, he stood and pushed a button attached to his duffle bag—and set off a huge bomb. Sara and Matthew died in the explosion. So did 24 others, along with the bomber. Their grieving families of the Americans set out to get answers and justice.

So begins the story of “The Bus on Jaffa Road.” The narrative weaves from the streets of Jerusalem to a West Bank refugee camp to the White House, the Congress and a U.S. courtroom where the victims' families filed a lawsuit against Iran for financing the bombing—then to a prison in the Negev desert in Israel where the author confronts the man who build the bomb on the Jaffa Road bus. It is a story that prefigures many of the difficulties of America's “war on terrorism” and reminds us of the intractable nature of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict that continues to this day.

Therefore not at all of book are make you bored, any it offers you feel happy, fun and unwind. Try to choose the best book for yourself and try to like reading that will.

Karen Lambert:

As a university student exactly feel bored to reading. If their teacher questioned them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's soul or real their interest. They just do what the teacher want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring along with can't see colorful images on there. Yeah, it is to get complicated. Book is very important to suit your needs. As we know that on this age, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Bus on Jaffa Road: A Story of Middle East Terrorism and the Search for Justice can make you really feel more interested to read.
